

Goodwood Art Foundation Teacher Forum

Our ambition for the Goodwood Art Foundation's Learning Programme is to ensure it is shaped and developed through ongoing consultation with teachers. Our aim is to embed strong curriculum links, ensuring the programme remains relevant and effectively supports both teachers and children in experiencing art within nature.

The Forum will play a key role in deepening our understanding of what teachers want and need, allowing us to be responsive in reviewing and evolving our offer. Through this collaborative approach, we hope to increase engagement with local schools and create meaningful, lasting impact.

What it involves:

- Attend three two-hour meetings a year (one per term)
- Opportunities to join us for selected teacher events and private views
- Championing The Goodwood Art Foundation.
- Be willing to contribute to group discussions and share feedback

In return for your time, we will cover reasonable travel expenses, provide light refreshments and aim for the Forum to be a networking opportunity between professionals.

Who we are looking for:

- Current teachers, who teach in mainstream and independent schools / colleges
- Those who teach creative art and design subjects in Primary, Secondary, SEND schools and college settings
- Teachers who are looking to embed creativity into their teaching and are enthusiastic about visiting and using cultural settings
- Those working within a one-hour travel time from Goodwood Art Foundation
